Welcome

I warmly welcome you to the 6th Horasis Global China Business Meeting. It is with immense gratitude that I thank Jean-Claude Juncker, Prime Minister of Luxembourg for having had the foresight and commitment to partner with us to make this Global China Business Meeting possible. My thanks go also to the China Federation of Industrial Economics and to all our partners and supporters.

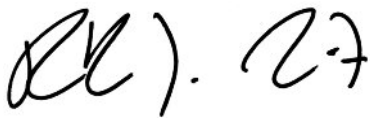

As a result of a close partnership, the annual Global China Business Meeting is regarded as one of the foremost annual gatherings of Chinese business leaders and their global counterparts. A select group of global leaders will gather to create a powerful platform for cooperation between China and the rest of the world. Participants will also celebrate the successful hosting of the Shanghai World Expo.

Senior executives from around the world will discuss Chinese firms' growing impact on global business. In addition, the Global China Business Meeting will provide a special focus on China's interaction with other emerging economies.

As the global economic crisis comes to end, panellists will examine the state of the global economy and China's role in shaping the post-crisis world.

It is my sincere hope that the Global China Business Meeting will further promote win-win economic relations, stimulate innovation and provide business opportunities for corporations from China and the world.

I wish you a thought-provoking and exceptional meeting.

Dr. Frank-Jürgen Richter
President
Horasis: The Global Visions Community
Switzerland

Welcome

It is with great pleasure that Luxembourg is hosting the 6th Global China Business Meeting. I am glad to welcome such a large audience of distinguished and high level participants from the global business community.

Today, the world is witnessing the breathtaking changes taking place in China. The rapid economic development of this country and its government's efforts on sustainability have established China as a motor of the world's growth. In times when the international economy is going through profound changes, we all need to endeavour in the strengthening of dialogue and coordination between actors involved in issues of vital importance such as the governance of the international financial system that brought us to the brink of the abyss. Dealing with the effects of and learning from the recent international economic and financial crisis is a challenge to our established ways of policy-making. It can nevertheless not distract us from other pressing global issues such as climate change, environment and energy security, which count among the topics addressed during the conference.

I am proud that a large number of true entrepreneurs, people of vision and insight, will gather in Luxembourg to debate the possibilities of improving the framework of our business and trade relations. I sincerely hope for open, frank and fruitful discussions which will lead to a lasting impact on the relations of the People's Republic of China with the world.

Last, but not least, I would like to take the opportunity to wish you a pleasant stay in my country and wish that you will take some time to discover the many charming facets of Luxembourg – the green heart of Europe.

Jeannot Krecké
Minister for the Economy and Foreign Trade
Luxembourg

PwC is the leading professional services network in the world and, with 2000 people, PwC Luxembourg (www.pwc.com/lu) is a strong leader in all its business lines: audit, tax and consulting. The PwC international network, has a long history in China, starting its business in Hong Kong in 1902 and opening its Shanghai office in 1906. Today, PwC China, Hong Kong and Singapore operate on a combined basis, and, with more than 470 partners and 13,000 people, is the leading professional firm in Greater China. At PwC Luxembourg, we aim at developing and fostering ties between Luxembourg and China. After the successful conference “Doing Business with China” in April 2010 intended for Luxembourg companies willing to take their business further in China, we recently organised a seminar in Shanghai to present the opportunities Luxembourg offers to Chinese companies and decision makers. Additionally, together with the Chamber of Commerce, we have developed a brochure in Chinese (Luxembourg: Where else?) to support business relationships between Luxembourg and China. Based on this experience and with the expertise of PwC China, we advise Luxembourg and Chinese companies on developing new business projects in the Banking sector, Asset Management, ICT, Health technologies, Environmental technologies and Logistics. Today, we are proud to be a Strategic Partner of the first Global China Business Meeting in Luxembourg.
